

Outside GC Expands Life Sciences Team to Meet Growing Industry Demand

On-demand general counsel services firm experiences record growth in its life sciences practice

BOSTON (PRWEB) May 27, 2021 -- Outside GC LLC, the nation's leading provider of on-demand, in-house legal counsel services, has added six (6) new partners to its life sciences practice, essentially doubling the size of its team: John Caruso, Dara Reppucci and Sabune Winkler (New England); Michèle Linde (Mid-Atlantic); Perri Melnick (California) and Cyndi Bailly (South). With this additional bench strength, Outside GC is well-positioned to continue supporting its thriving and growing portfolio of pharmaceutical, biotechnology, medical device, and health technology clients.

“Biotech financing broke records globally in 2020, including in Massachusetts, where we are headquartered, with biotech companies receiving $5.8 billion in venture funding,” noted Bill Stone, co-founder and Managing Member of Outside GC. Stone added, “this incredible industry growth has enabled Outside GC to become a leader in delivering legal services defined by exceptional experience and value. Whether clients need support with R&D, clinical trials, supply chain issues, or post-commercial matters, our attorneys have deep industry experience as former GCs or senior in-house lawyers at life sciences companies, enabling them to provide judgment-level legal support at rates that are considerably less than a traditional law firm.”

Outside GC is seeking life sciences attorneys with substantial in-house experience to join its growing team. “We offer a unique alternative to a traditional law firm or in-house career, providing flexibility for professionals desiring a reasonable work-life balance, while continuing to work on highly sophisticated legal matters,” explained Stone.
